

Doing the best for your child.

St. Marien Children's Hospital, Landshut, is a 120-bed comprehensive center for pediatric health care in the Greater Munich area. It is conveniently located within immediate vicinity of Munich Airport (MUC), and is situated in quiet, lush green surroundings with a pleasant climate—thanks to the nearby recreational areas of the world-famous Bavarian Forest National and Nature Park. We are proud to serve patients from across the country and around the world.

As a major pediatric referral center, we offer a complete range of health care services for children from birth through 18 years of age. With the close, interdisciplinary cooperation among the departments, we are particularly successful in the treatment of children with multiple problems. This interdisciplinary cooperation system, encompassing all the related areas of expertise, offers diagnostic and therapeutic solutions for every problem.

Our ambulatory care facilities and patient rooms are uniquely designed to meet the needs of the patient, the family and the caregiver.

St. Marien Children's Hospital is also the primary pediatric teaching affiliate of Munich University School of Medicine. Our identity is largely shaped by the fact that we are a pediatric academic hospital, a serious environment where childhood illness and disease are faced daily. Our wards are staffed around the clock by certified doctors and nurses.

Many diseases affect children and adults differently. Children's bodies aren't just smaller than adults' bodies; they're physically different and require different medical knowledge and equipment for proper diagnosis and treatment.

We are dedicated to the quality care of children and their families—endeavoring to ensure your experience, and that of your child, to be as pleasant as possible—whether it is during inpatient treatment or a single ambulatory visit. Our pediatric clinic has recently been newly refurbished and is structurally and technically on the highest standard. The mother-and-child units are customarily available in a family-friendly atmosphere, with a choice of comfortable accommodation for parents.
